May 2017

Namaste,

Here is a bit of an update - the studio and business are still for sale. We have had few recent inquiries from people interested in purchasing both the studio and the business. One seems particularly interested so we are feeling quite hopeful that your classes might continue if the sale goes through these final stages. This is the most serious interest we have had to date. If the sale falls through then we will provide you with another update at that time. Thank-you for your patience as we continue to try to hammer out these details in as timely a fashion as possible.

We still encourage you to use up your current passes as there are still a lot of moving parts. Here is the schedule.

Lots of love,
Feel Good Team
